Emily Francisco

After Saint Mary Magdalene by Artemisia Gentileschi. Currently exhibited in the Galleria Palatina of the Palazzo Pitti in Florence.

Is this she

the woman of golden skirts one who clutches at her breast as if tormented by some innermost burst vein of longing black room lit from beyond the frame

(because agony is best felt in the dark)— she who cut her long golden tresses in penitence

frayed ends threads of hair hanging like shredded sinews by the ears—

I can see her, gilded dress falling from her shoulder in an act of spiritual freeness her bare collarbone blessed by the sacred unseen flickering flame and it is to me she glances emptily woman-hero of my New Testament tortured paintress humble barefoot Maddalena—

The lips part and in that singular silver breath of piety

(or perhaps it is regret)

she becomes the afflicted no longer a face of fortitude yielding instead to the aging of feminist progeny her story exhaled

before me and into my lungs with the sigh of longevity and it shimmers—

saturated with the thick iridescent narrative of one who has endured
