LGBTQ & You: Connecting Collections with the Campus Community

Abstract
Musselman Library’s LGBTQ Research Guide, established in 2012, is a resource that goes beyond connecting the library’s collections with the campus community and providing access. This research guide has generated opportunities to grow campus partnerships, foster a student’s interest in librarianship, and create a gateway for research and learning in the LGBTQ community that goes beyond the classroom. In our presentation we will outline the project from its early days as a student project to its current life as collaboration between the library and Gettysburg Colleges’ Office of LGBTQ Advocacy & Education.

Speaking Out

Gettysburg College strives to be a welcoming and inclusive community for all students, staff, and faculty, regardless of how they identify. With this goal in mind, the College has made many efforts to be an institution that is welcoming and affirming to members of the Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender, Queer, Questioning and Asexual (LGBTQA) community. Gettysburg has a strong community of LGBTQA-identified students, faculty, and staff on campus, as well as an innovative Gender-Neutral Housing Program that is open to students of all years.

We are pleased that the College received 4 out of 5 stars on the Campus Pride LGBT-Friendliness Campus Climate Index.

Student Created Library Guide

Gettysburg College students are well-known for their ability to take initiative and impact their community. Due to the efforts of Hannah Leone, Class of 2014, Gettysburg College is able to take great pride in a library research guide that is dedicated to LGBTQA resources. Hannah has compiled an abundance of books, films, documentaries, and other valuable sources to educate and inform on data pertinent to the LGBTQA community. This library guide is still under construction, gradually growing into an even larger database. At present, one can review information on the bisexual community, the transgender community, and LGBTQA culture as a whole. In the future, this library guide will encompass information geared towards other portions of the acronym—such as sections featuring the lesbian community and the asexual community.
