Librarianship is Neat!

Abstract

I've got a few weeks under my belt now with this Internship and so far, so good. I'll be totally honest though, when I first started every time someone came near the desk I got a little nervous because after 3.5 years I thought I knew my way around the Library; nope. BUT, now with three weeks of perusing research guides, databases, asking a zillion questions and rereading everything in my training guide approximately three times, I feel confident that I can be helpful, and that's great! Comments

The Interns at Gettysburg College's Musselman Library captured their internship experiences since the spring of 2011. Over time the blog has featured Fortenbaugh, Smith, and Holley interns. They shared updates on semester long projects, responded to blogging prompts, and documented their individual intern experience.

Librarianship is Neat!

February 10, 2014

By: Celia Hartz '14

My name is Celia and I am the Spring 2014 Fortenbaugh Reference Intern!

About Me: I'm a Senior History major with a minor in Africana Studies. I'm from outside of Harrisburg, PA, so just one step outside of being townie status. I was the Co-Captain for Bullets Cheer this past season and I am also on the Executive Board for Dance Ensemble (I'm not a very good dancer though, whoops!) and I really like cats and they will be featured on these blog posts.

I've got a few weeks under my belt now with this Internship and so far, so good. I'll be totally honestly though, when I first started every time someone came near the desk I got a little nervous because after 3.5 years I thought I knew my way around the Library; nope. BUT, now with three weeks of perusing research guides, databases, asking a zillion questions and rereading everything in my training guide approximately three times, I feel confident that I can be helpful, and that's great!

Otherwise, I'm not much of a chatty Kathy but I do to get hang out with Ronalee Ciocco, the Director of User Services and Jessica Howard, the Electronic Resources and Web Librarian, later this week! It should be exciting, and I shall report back next time!!
