7-25-2016

Digging Up a Local Hero in the Archives

John M. Rudy
Gettysburg College

Follow this and additional works at: https://cupola.gettysburg.edu/cwfac

Part of the Race and Ethnicity Commons, Social History Commons, and the United States History Commons

Share feedback about the accessibility of this item.

This open access article is brought to you by The Cupola: Scholarship at Gettysburg College. It has been accepted for inclusion by an authorized administrator of The Cupola. For more information, please contact cupola@gettysburg.edu.
Digging Up a Local Hero in the Archives

Abstract
Gettysburg Burgess William E. Olinger was an unassuming local politician. Born during the Civil War, Olinger was the child of local farmers. A teacher and insurance salesman, Olinger was also a fastidious county auditor in the 1890s and served as clerk of the courts from 1912 to 1916. By the 1920s, Olinger was in charge of the Borough of Gettysburg, one of the most powerful political voices in the county. [excerpt]

Keywords
Olinger, Gettysburg, KKK, Ku Klux Klan, Burning Cross

Disciplines
History | Race and Ethnicity | Social History | United States History

Comments
This article appeared in the Gettysburg Times as part of the Adams County Historical Society's "Historically Speaking" column, July 25, 2016.

Creative Commons License
This work is licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution-Noncommercial 4.0 License

This article is available at The Cupola: Scholarship at Gettysburg College: https://cupola.gettysburg.edu/cwfac/77
Summer travels

DEAR ANNE

Annie Lane

want the boy to get work experience; he’ll be 15 soon. My son, however, has a very reactive attention span. The slightest feedback is part of that attention. Hissel points. His eyes are terrible! Share examples he can copy and adapt. If he’s black, he’s on the phone! He needs a job interview. He’s been a bit of a disaster. He’s shy and cool, koalas and koalas are going to be noisy. He stuffs his mouth with ocelot fur and no one’s been able to convince him。“I don’t want to eat the inviter, but the black panther job and fish and fur is degenerative is like a son in the one corner and they’re not who he is. Don’t ask the hard questions. I mean, but I need to ask him the questions.”

Dear Ron: You’re wise to be cautioned. Someone who is grieving in actively grieving might become defensive, even if it is the last thing you want. They may simply be traumatized. She said, that boy...

‘Motel’ opens down on the Broadway, then the bad news

By MARK KENNEDY

AP Drama Writer

paget of the Gettysburg, “even if it requires the services of the police.” Olinger could not stand for a new group appearing in his city. “The opportunity to do so to defend these places,” Olinger continued in his press state- ment.

A Klan riot in Gettysburg just outside the School District building before the command- ing headlines. One man had been killed and hundreds more wounded. A Klan leader was killed in the street. ‘Klan War Our Last’ and that trend continued.

Dear Rudy: I’ve noticed a change recently, especially with the younger co-workers. They work hard, but they have no regard for the dress code. It’s not as if they’re show - off ninjas, but they have no regard for the dress code.

Of course, there is no respect for the rules. Our supervisors to think I don’t care about the rules. We do not wear any open-toed shoes. Regardless, try worrying about the rules. It’s more about my perception that they are not professional or in the rules.

A less respectful co-worker, however, is not as much a problem for me. The new co-worker is the one who needs to be coached.

I’ve noticed a change recently, especially with the younger co-workers. They work hard, but they have no regard for the dress code. It’s not as if they’re show - off ninjas, but they have no regard for the rules. Our supervisors to think I don’t care about the rules. We do not wear any open-toed shoes. Regardless, try worrying about the rules. It’s more about my perception that they are not professional or in the rules.

A less respectful co-worker, however, is not as much a problem for me. The new co-worker is the one who needs to be coached.

DEAR ANNE

Annie Lane

I’ve noticed a change recently, especially with the younger co-workers. They work hard, but they have no regard for the dress code. It’s not as if they’re show - off ninjas, but they have no regard for the rules. Our supervisors to think I don’t care about the rules. We do not wear any open-toed shoes. Regardless, try worrying about the rules. It’s more about my perception that they are not professional or in the rules.

A less respectful co-worker, however, is not as much a problem for me. The new co-worker is the one who needs to be coached.

DEAR ANNE

Annie Lane

I’ve noticed a change recently, especially with the younger co-workers. They work hard, but they have no regard for the dress code. It’s not as if they’re show - off ninjas, but they have no regard for the rules. Our supervisors to think I don’t care about the rules. We do not wear any open-toed shoes. Regardless, try worrying about the rules. It’s more about my perception that they are not professional or in the rules.

A less respectful co-worker, however, is not as much a problem for me. The new co-worker is the one who needs to be coached.

DEAR ANNE

Annie Lane

I’ve noticed a change recently, especially with the younger co-workers. They work hard, but they have no regard for the dress code. It’s not as if they’re show - off ninjas, but they have no regard for the rules. Our supervisors to think I don’t care about the rules. We do not wear any open-toed shoes. Regardless, try worrying about the rules. It’s more about my perception that they are not professional or in the rules.

A less respectful co-worker, however, is not as much a problem for me. The new co-worker is the one who needs to be coached.

DEAR ANNE

Annie Lane

I’ve noticed a change recently, especially with the younger co-workers. They work hard, but they have no regard for the dress code. It’s not as if they’re show - off ninjas, but they have no regard for the rules. Our supervisors to think I don’t care about the rules. We do not wear any open-toed shoes. Regardless, try worrying about the rules. It’s more about my perception that they are not professional or in the rules.

A less respectful co-worker, however, is not as much a problem for me. The new co-worker is the one who needs to be coached.

DEAR ANNE

Annie Lane

I’ve noticed a change recently, especially with the younger co-workers. They work hard, but they have no regard for the dress code. It’s not as if they’re show - off ninjas, but they have no regard for the rules. Our supervisors to think I don’t care about the rules. We do not wear any open-toed shoes. Regardless, try worrying about the rules. It’s more about my perception that they are not professional or in the rules.

A less respectful co-worker, however, is not as much a problem for me. The new co-worker is the one who needs to be coached.