MS-165: Papers of Jen Bryant '82

Description

The collection is primarily composed of information relating to the publication of Jen Bryant's picture books and novels. The greatest amount of content is related to books written between 2004 and 2011, but the collection spans from the early days of Bryant's writing career in 1991 to work on her most recently published book, with additional donations anticipated at the author's convenience.

Materials relating to Bryant's professional activities and personal life are also available. These include records of events she attended, awards and honors she received, publishers' catalogues, and personal correspondence.

Special Collections and College Archives Finding Aids are discovery tools used to describe and provide access to our holdings. Finding aids include historical and biographical information about each collection in addition to inventories of their content. More information about our collections can be found on our website http://www.gettysburg.edu/special\_collections/collections/.

Biography

Jen Bryant was born in Easton, PA, and grew up in Flemington, New Jersey. She studied French at Gettysburg College, graduating in 1982, and later received her M. A. from Arcadia University. She began writing for children in 1989, publishing a series of picture books entitled Working Moms: A Portrait of Their Lives. She has written several biographical picture books, focusing on historical figures such as Marianne Moore, Georgia O’Keeffe, and William Carlos Williams. In 2005 she published The Trial, her first verse novel for middle-grade readers, which was followed by her critically recognized works Ringside, 1925: Views from the Scopes Trial; Pieces of Georgia; and Kaleidoscope Eyes. Her first prose novel, The Fortune of Carmen Navarro, based on the novella and opera Carmen, was published in 2011. Her writing has also been seen in Highlights for Children, as well as several literary publications.

Bryant’s books have been placed on multiple booklists, including Oprah’s Recommended Reading List, the Christian Science Monitor Best Children’s Books, and the New York Times Book Review Best Illustrated Children’s Books. In 2009 her picture book A River of Words: The Story of William Carlos Williams, illustrated by Melissa Sweet, was recognized as a Caldecott Honor Book and received a Cooperative Children’s Book Center Charlotte Zolotow Honor Award.

In 1997 Bryant was recognized with a Young Alumni Achievement Award from Gettysburg College, and in 2013 she received an honorary Doctorate of Humane Letters from the College. She has taught English and children’s literature at West Chester University and Bryn Mawr College. She lives in Chester County, Pennsylvania, with her husband, Neil Bryant ’82, and their daughter.

Scope and Content Notes

The collection is primarily composed of information relating to the publication of Jen Bryant's picture books and novels. The greatest amount of content is related to books written between 2004 and 2011, but the collection spans from the early days of Bryant's writing career in 1991 to work on her most recently published book, with additional donations anticipated at the author's convenience.

Materials relating to Bryant's professional activities and personal life are also available. These include records of events she attended, awards and honors she received, publishers' catalogues, and personal correspondence.

Series Description

The collection is divided into three series: 1. Books, 2. Professional Activities, and 3. Personal Materials.

Series 1: Books

This series includes materials related to the writing, editing, and publishing of Jen Bryant's books. Research materials, notes, drafts, manuscripts, proofs, and correspondence connected to her published works are found in this series. The series is generally arranged in chronological order and currently covers books from Lucretia Mott: A Guiding Light, published 1996, to A Splash of Red: The Life and Art of Horace Pippin, published 2013, with gaps.

Series 2: Professional Activities

This series is comprised of information about Bryant's career as a writer that is unconnected to any specific book. It includes materials relating to appearances by the author, conferences she attended, and awards she received. Publishing companies' book catalogues and advertisements featuring her work are also available, as are other publications her work has appeared in, such as literary magazines.

Series 3: Personal Materials

This series includes items indirectly related to Bryant's work as an author. Personal correspondence, thank-you notes from children whose schools she visited, biographical information, and mementos from her activities as a Gettysburg College alumna are stored here.
