Provenance

This collection was donated in 1950 along with about 350 books relating to World War I. It was donated to the Gettysburg College library by Alice D. Parkin, the wife of Harry D. Parkin, since numerous men in the 316th Infantry of the 79th Division of the American Expeditionary Forces had been from Gettysburg and nearby towns. This collection was previously catalogued as Miscellaneous Volumes 395-399.

Biographical and Historical Note

Harry Dravo Parkin was born in 1880. He attended Harvard University as a brother of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity and graduated in the class of 1904. After graduation, Harry Dravo Parkin attended Harvard Law School for one year before going into business in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. In 1907 Harry Dravo Parkin married Alice Mary Parkin (née Dangerfield) and they had a son, Harry Dravo Parkin, Jr., two years later in 1909. Harry Dravo Parkin began his Army career in 1917 in Camp Meade. Throughout his time in the military during World War I he became Major of the 316th Infantry of the 79th Division of the American Expeditionary Forces. During his time in the Army, Harry Dravo Parkin was wounded and captured by the Germans in France on November 4, 1918. He spent various days in a German military hospital, but was released upon the Armistice on November 11, 1918. After WWI, Harry D Parkin lived in Los Angeles, California with his wife. Due to his heroic actions in WWI, Parkin was given the army Distinguished Service Cross. He died in 1946 and was survived by his wife and his son. Alice Dangerfield Parkin lived until 1955 and their son, Harry Dravo Parkin Jr. died in 1977.
