Author Bio

Meredith McEntee is a sophomore from Northern Virginia and is a Globalization Studies major and French minor. She has been interested in photography since middle school and loves photographing her natural surroundings-nature and people alike (she sends thanks to her friends for being gracious and patient models!). Although most of her photography is now digital, she prefers black and white film, like the image shown. In addition, Meredith is involved in Track and Field, Tour Guiding, and eRace at Gettysburg and she is the cook at a summer camp in Maine.
