The Economics Department and Omicron Delta Epsilon congratulate Nikolay Doskov, winner of the 2006 Dwight D. Eisenhower Society / R.M. Hoffman Family Memorial Prize in Economics. The Eisenhower/Hoffman Prize is awarded to the economics student writing the best quantitative paper or project with public policy implications. Nikolay’s paper, “The Effects of Maternal Welfare Receipt on Children’s Development,” is the lead article in this issue of the Gettysburg Economic Review.

The Economics Department and Omicron Delta Epsilon congratulate Jesper Odum, winner of the 2006 Dr. and Mrs. William F. Railing Fund Fellowship for Faculty-Student Research in Economics. The Railing Fellowship helps fund collaborative summer research between a student and an economics faculty member. Jesper will work with Professor Mark Hopkins on an investigation of the effect of World Bank policies and development assistance on economic growth, income inequality, democracy, and political liberalism.
