Statement of Purpose

The Adams County Historical Society is committed to the presentation of the social, political, and religious history of the county and to the promotion of the study of that history. Expressing its commitment, the society maintains museum displays and a valuable library of publications and manuscript material which includes estate papers, deed books, land surveys, and newspapers. In addition, it publishes important historical studies and reprints of earlier studies on Adams county history, a monthly newsletter, and a journal.

The editorial board of Adams County History encourages and invites the submission of essays and notices reflecting the rich history of Adams county. Submissions should be typed double spaced. Generally, style should conform to that of either the Modern Language Style Sheet or the University of Chicago Manual of Style. Contributors should retain copies of the typescript submitted. If return is desired, a self-addressed envelope with postage should be included.

Submissions and inquiries should be addressed to:

Editor's Note

Almost every aphorism may be turned on its head, made to stand upside down in order to force an opposite truth to drop from its pocket, as it were. "The devil is in the details" may be true, but where we find devils we also discover angels. So it is indeed with the lists, the compilations, and the day-to-day records which are the subjects of this, the tenth volume of Adams County History. For these details provide the foundation, the basic data out of which the greater narratives which become "history" are created. It is significant that one of our words for these narratives, story, derives from the Greek/Latin root, historia, that is, "learning or knowing by inquiry." These data are, then, the prime matter which we evolve into the stories which become our histories.

This volume of ACH presents several different compilations. One, Kevin L. Greenholt assembles from widely dispersed archival records and newspaper notices and an interview to produce a narrative of the life of Dr. Robert B. Elderdice, a country physician who served his community in and around McKnightstown for well over half a century. In turn, Dr. Elderdice's carefully maintained patient record from 1867 to 1926 preserves 1027 records of uncommon interest and value. These data, Adams County Historical Society Administrative Assistant Sheryl Hollis Snyder discusses, analyzes, and uses to identify significant and noteworthy patterns.

In yet another undertaking of considerable value, Kevin Greenholt presents the results of his meticulous culling of census records, putting conveniently at our fingertips the identities of military veterans who resided in Adams county from 1840 to 1930, a record embracing conflicts from the Revolutionary War down to World War I. The utility of Kevin's research published here should inspire other readers to pursue related projects—for example, more complete lists of Adams countians who served in the Revolutionary War and the War of 1812 than were enumerated in the 1840 census, and a compilation of residents who fought in that most unpopular of all our conflicts, the Mexican War of 1846-8, information which apparently fell outside of the census-takers' categories.

Angels in the details, then? Well, perhaps not angels, but no one will dispute that the data published in this volume will greatly benefit all who choose to avail themselves of the windows they open into Adams county's history.

A “Typical Country Doctor”: Robert B. Elderdice, McKnightstown

by Kevin L. Greenholt

The drive home from the Cashtown area home of the Kuhn family was cold and dark, but the twenty-one-year-old medical student was exhilarated. It was after four o'clock on a Monday morning, December 16, 1867. He had just assisted Mrs. Abner (Rebecca) Kuhn deliver her third child, a 14-pound son, the first of over one thousand such deliveries during his medical career. Arriving back at his lodging in the McKnightstown area, he would make the first entry in his obstetrical journal. This neat, detailed journal would eventually hold the record of 1026 cases, most involving families in the Franklin township area of Adams county, Pennsylvania.

Robert Breckenridge Elderdice would graduate the following spring from the Cincinnati [Ohio] College of Medicine and Surgery. Born August 14, 1846, at Woodlawn, Cecil county, Maryland, he was the first child of the Rev. James Martin Elderdice, an itinerant Methodist Protestant minister, and his first wife, Nancy Grier Breckenridge. [See Appendix for a brief ancestral chart of Dr. Elderdice.]

He left his parents' home at an early age and found employment as a clerk. At the age of 16, he decided to enlist in the Union army during the Civil War. His tour of duty was nine months. Elderdice enlisted October 16, 1862 in Company B, 165th Pennsylvania Infantry Regiment and was discharged July 28, 1863.¹ Samuel P. Bates's History of Pennsylvania Volunteers reports that the 165th was basically stationed in the Suffolk, Virginia, area. In April of 1863, Lt. Gen. James Longstreet and a rebel army of 40,000 men unsuccessfully attempted to dislodge the Federal forces, including the 165th, from the area. The 165th was involved in two other minor skirmishes before it was mustered out in late July, 1863.²

Elderdice's military service pension file contains documents describing his physical features at the time of his enlistment.³ He stood five feet, three inches tall, had a dark complexion, black eyes, and black hair. On one form, he stated that he enrolled at Chambersburg, PA, as a private; another states that he enrolled at Carlisle, PA, as a drummer. The second is probably correct as Company B of the 165th was formed in Cumberland county. His father and step-mother, Matilda Jane Heffelfinger, lived in Carlisle during the early 1860s.

On his pension application listing his several places of residence since leaving the service, he noted that he had lived in Baltimore and New York in 1863-64, in Philadelphia in 1865-66, in Cincinnati in 1866-67, and McKnightstown since 1867. Although the application does not state the purpose for residing in those cities, it may be presumed that he was attending medical schools and/or serving internships, finishing in Cincinnati.

Based on research by J. William Long, published in the December 1982 Newsletter of the Adams County Historical Society, Robert began a medical internship in the fall of 1867 with his paternal aunt's husband, Dr. John Carpenter, who practiced in the McKnightstown area. Mr. Long states that at the time, "Robert is a student at the Cincinnati College of Physicians and Surgeons. He returns to Cincinnati in the spring to complete his schooling." The History of Adams County 1886, in listing the members of the Adams County Medical Society, incorrectly states that Robert Elderdice graduated June 25, 1858 from the Cincinnati College of Medicine and Surgery.⁴ The date should read 1868. Dr. Elderdice would serve as president of the Medical Society in 1907.

Henry and Kate Ford's History of Cincinnati, Ohio contains the following description of the Cincinnati College of Medicine and Surgery: it "was founded in 1851, by physicians of the 'regular' or allopathic school of practice. It is situated on the south side of George, between John and Smith streets, and unlike some other medical schools, has two sessions a year, one from October to March, and the other from March to May, inclusive."⁵ The WPA Guide to Cincinnati says that the "the Cincinnati College of Medicine and Surgery, an allopathic school begun in 1849, was discontinued in 1902."⁶

The Cincinnati Historical Society has a collection of "Annual Announcement" booklets from the Cincinnati College of Medicine and Surgery, which include lists of alumni. R. B. Elderdice, Maryland, was a member of the class of 1868. The 1870 booklet discusses the course lectures, which were held from October until February and from March until June.⁷ Lectures were available in gynecology, dental medicine and surgery, and practical anatomy:

There will be found no difficulty in carrying on dissections during the Spring and Summer term, as the subjects are so prepared as to be easily preserved for thorough study. Anatomical material is supplied in abundance, and at low rates.⁸

Clinical lectures were conducted at the Cincinnati Hospital ("the most magnificent institution of the kind in the United States, and, in fact, is second to none in the world").⁹ The college's collection of specimens, models, and preparations was described as being:

large and varied, and [it] affords ample means for illustration in anatomy and pathology. Professor Young, while engaged in the late war, made a vast collection of specimens of injuries of all kinds of bones, and made numerous drawings of wounds and pathological conditions which he has added to the means already possessed for illustration.¹⁰

Total tuition was $65.00 The requirements for graduation state that:

The candidate must be twenty-one years of age, and must present proper testimonials of a good moral character, and satisfactory evidence that he has studied medicine for three years with a physician and surgeon duly authorized by law to practice his profession. He must have attended two full courses of lectures - the last of which must have been in this college. He must pass a satisfactory examination, and submit to the Faculty of the college an acceptable thesis on some subject connected with medicine, of his own composition. Four years' practice will be considered as equivalent to attendance on one course of lectures, a certificate of which must be presented at the time of matriculating, or handed in with the thesis.¹¹

On July 17, 1868, the (Gettysburg) Republican Compiler printed a notice: "Elderdice, R.B. Announces his return to practice in New Salem [McKnightstown]." His office (see Figure 1) was located in the former homestead of the McKnight family, located on the north side of the then Lincoln Highway. His home, which he would acquire from his father's estate in 1885, is located about 100 yards to the east of the McKnight homestead and on the south side of the highway. It is probable that he lived in this house prior to 1885.

Dr. R. B. Elderdice first appears in the Franklin township, Adams county, PA, tax lists for the tax year 1868, showing that he owned a horse.

On April 20, 1870, in the Bay View Church, Cameron Park, Cecil County, MD, Dr. Elderdice married Anna Amanda Cameron, daughter of William and Anna Marie (Oldham) Cameron. Amanda was born September 9, 1846 in Cecil County. Robert and Amanda were married by his father, Rev. James Martin Elderdice.¹² The Gettysburg Compiler, in its April 29, 1870 edition, printed the following notice: "On the 20th inst., at Cameron Park, by the Rev. Jas. M. Elderdice, Dr. R. B. Elderdice, of McKnightstown, [wed] to Miss Anna A. Cameron, of Cecil county, Maryland."

In his genealogy of Joseph England, an ancestor of Dr. Elderdice's wife, C. Walter England states: "Robert practiced medicine in McKnightstown, Adams County, Pa., 1870 to December 1873 when he moved to Zion, Md. and practiced there until Oct. 1875. He returned to McKnightstown and resumed his practice there 1 Feb 1876 and continued into his 81st year."¹³

The Commemorative Biographical Encyclopedia of Dauphin County, Pennsylvania contains information which probably explains who took Dr. Elderdice's place as a physician for the McKnightstown area upon his move to Zion, Maryland. Useful for the way it adds to our understanding of a nineteenth-century rural physician's training and nomadic lifestyle, it reads:

Dr. Ezra S. Meals received his primary education in the public schools of his native town [Bendersville]. Later he attended the Normal School at Gettysburg, and the Tyson Academy, Flora Dale, Pa. He began the study of medicine with Dr. E. W. Mauma, of Bendersville, reading with him for a year; he subsequently studied for one year with his brother, I. J. Meals, at Mill Creek, Huntingdon county, Pa. He next spent one term in the study of medicine and pharmacy in the University of Michigan. Another year was passed under the instruction of Dr. R. B. Elderdice, of McKnightstown, Adams county. He was graduated from the College of Physicians and Surgeons, Cincinnati, Ohio, with the class of 1874, and immediately afterwards began the practice of his chosen profession at McKnightstown, purchasing the practice of his preceptor. After practicing successfully in this town for a year and a half he removed to Biglersville [sic], Adams county....¹⁴

The return of Dr. Elderdice from Zion, Maryland, was possibly prompted by the move of Dr. Meals to Biglerville - or vice versa.

From 1871 to 1877, Robert and Amanda Elderdice became the parents of four children. The first, Marian Kate, was born March 11, 1871, and, according to Dr. Elderdice's records, she was delivered by Dr. [J. W. C.] O'Neal, [Gettysburg]. The three other children, Maude Anna, born December 4, 1872, William James, born June 18, 1874, and Robert Grier, born October 5, 1877, were delivered by Dr. Elderdice. His wife, Anna Amanda Elderdice, passed away December 11, 1892 in McKnightstown. She was buried in Rosebank Cemetery, Calvert, Cecil county, Maryland.

The administrator of the estate of Peter Hake sold a house and lot to Dr. Elderdice in September of 1881 for $1000.00.¹⁵

As part of the settlement of his father's estate, on November 5, 1885, Robert agreed to accept his father's lot in McKnightstown, paying each of his siblings $165.93 1/3. This property became his home and office. A 1936 description of the lot reads:

A lot of ground situate in McKnightstown, Franklin Twp., Adams County, Pa, having a frontage of 92.4 feet along the South side of the Lincoln Highway and a depth of 222 1/2 feet, bounded on the West by a public alley adjoining lands of the First National Bank of Gettysburg, on the East by Mrs. Nuss, improved with two and one-half story brick dwelling house and stable.¹⁶ (see Figure 2)

On October 16, 1891, Dr. Elderdice filed for a military pension, claiming permanent disability due to chronic rheumatism, hemorrhoids and kidney trouble.¹⁷ His pension was approved, and he began to receive payments of $12 per month. On March 15, 1895, his payments were reduced to $6.00; on July 4, 1895 they were increased to $8.00, and on October 6, 1908 they returned to $12.00. The next increases came in 1912 when the payment changed to $15.00; in 1913, changed to $15.50; and, in 1916 to $19.00. The year 1918 brought two increases, to $30.00 and $32.00, followed by a decrease in 1921 to $22.50. Finally, on September 21, 1931 he received a large increase to $100 which continued until his death.

Elderdice's pension, however, did not continue without difficulties. The Department of the Interior, Bureau of Pensions questioned him about his correct birth date. In a sworn statement dated April 19, 1913, he wrote:

Unable to furnish record of birth; parents long since dead. Mother died while I [was] quite small. Father married again, and I left home at age of 15. Father died some years later, and family scattered widely. I knew of a family record of births and deaths, but do not know whose hands it fell into, or where it could be found. I was honorably discharged at Gettysburg, July 28, 1863, and my discharge gives my age as 19 then, which (if correct) would made me 68 when I filed my application Aug. 14, 1912, as being 66 yrs. old then, or 69 by Aug. 14, 1913.¹⁸

Contact with his patients was enhanced in the fall of 1901 when the telephone at McKnightstown, formerly at C. W. Johnson's store, had been moved to Dr. Elderdice's offices.¹⁹

Dr. Elderdice wrote his will August 25, 1904, naming his four children as his heirs - Mrs. Marion Cromwell, Maud A. Elderdice, William J.

Elderdice, and Robert G. Elderdice.²⁰ He directed that his children be allowed equally to take some of his personal possessions. After that, his real estate and personal possessions were to be sold and the proceeds divided by his heirs. He also stipulated that each heir's share was to be reduced by an amount that had previously been given. This amount was to be found in Ledger "D" in his home safe. A codicil was appended to the will on October 21, 1933, naming First National Bank of Gettysburg as executor, replacing Citizen Trust Co. of Gettysburg.

Dr. Elderdice assisted in his final delivery on Saturday, November 20, 1926, when a son was born to Raymond J. and Clara B. Wetzel, Franklin township. He continued to see patients for ten more years, ending his practice in the Spring of 1936, having served his community for 69 years.

During this time, Elderdice also found occasional opportunity to help his community in other ways. For example, on September 1, 1930 a new law was instituted by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania requiring that milk must come from tuberculin-tested herds and could only be sold after it was either pasteurized or handled according to strict regulations laid down by the state. Without permits, local suppliers of milk were unable to deliver to customers.²¹ Dr. Elderdice wrote a letter to the state Department of Health stating:

This village of thirty odd families is now in the midst of a milk famine – a very serious situation for many of us. There were seven families who supplied the town with milk, but owing to some recent law, none of them have, as yet, received permits to sell milk. This condition is a great hardship for the children, invalids and old persons – can't even be allowed milk for our coffee. Such a state of affairs is a fine bid for Bolshevism and naturally tends to a disregard of and contempt for all laws. The producer can sell to creameries, but the poor little children, invalids, the old and infirm – the consumers be damned to them, as the railroad magnate put it. I am in my 85th year and have been in practice here over 63 years and milk is my main food, so you see I feel a little strongly on the subject as it hits me where I live. On page 11 of the last issue of "Pennsylvania Health" it says "it is better economy and better eating to eat white bread and drink milk than to eat whole bread alone. Please tell me how I am to do so when milk is strictly prohibited here, for I can't find any milk-legger here, although I'm told bootleggers are plenty. We are advised to drink milk by the state board of health and then by the same authority compelled to do without it.²²

The day following publication of the letter in the newspaper, Charles Dougherty of Gettysburg supplied the town with milk until the local dairymen could obtain their permits.

Approximately one month prior to his death, the following notice appeared in a local newspaper: "Dr. R. B. Elderdice, one of the few surviving Civil War veterans in Adams county, is confined to bed by illness at his home in McKnightstown. Dr. Elderdice will observe his eighty-ninth birthday in August."²³

When distribution was made of his estate, following his death in 1936, the heirs were named as Mrs. Marion Cromwell, Baltimore; Mrs. Maude A. Rice, Brooklyn, New York; and, Phyllis B. Elderdice, Baltimore, only child of William J. Elderdice, who died in 1935. Dr. Elderdice's other son, Robert, had died in 1905, leaving no heirs. Dr. Elderdice's property in McKnightstown was sold to Archie B. and Sarah E. Rebert in 1936, according to estate papers.²⁴

The (July 4, 1936) Gettysburg Compiler carried the following obituary for Dr. Elderdice:

Dr. Elderdice, 1863 Vet, Dies; Doctor 69 Years –
McKnightstown Physician, 89, Enlisted Before 17th Birthday.

Dr. Robert Breckenridge Elderdice, 89, civil war veteran and for 69 years a practicing physician in McKnightstown, died at his home there Sunday evening [June 28, 1936] at 8:30 o'clock from the infirmities of age. He had been ill for five weeks.

Completing a ten months' enlistment in Company B, 165th Pennsylvania Infantry on July 28, 1863, two weeks before his seventeenth birthday anniversary, Robert B. Elderdice began the practice of medicine in McKnightstown in April 1867. He received patients at his office until his recent illness last month.

Doctor Elderdice was born at Fort Deposit, Cecil county, Maryland, a son of the late James M. and Nancy G. Breckenridge Elderdice.

He enlisted in Carlisle in October 1862, and was detailed as clerk and orderly to Colonel C. H. Buehler during his entire term of service. He was discharged at Gettysburg July 28, 1863.

He heard Abraham Lincoln deliver the dedicatory address in the national cemetery, November 19, 1863.

Doctor Elderdice was a member of Corporal Skelly Post No. 9 of the Grand Army of the Republic. He had been a regular attendant at Memorial day exercises at the national cemetery here until the last two years when his health did not permit his attendance.

In 1870 Doctor Elderdice became a charter member of the Adams county Medical society. He was secretary of the Board of Medical Examiners for the United States pension department at Gettysburg, in 1892, '93, '97 and '99. He was commissioned in the volunteer medical service corps here in 1918.

His wife, the former Anna Amanda Cameron, died a number of years ago.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Marion Cromwell, Baltimore, and Mrs. Thomas S. Rice, Brooklyn, New York; a sister, Mrs. Michael [Lawrence] Freeny, Maryland; three brothers, Dr. U. S. [Hugh Latimer] Elderdice, Westminster, Maryland; Dr. John M. Elderdice, Salisbury, Maryland, and Webster Elderdice, Pittsville, Maryland. There are four grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

Using a printed form of death certificate of the type used regularly by physicians, Doctor Elderdice had filled out a part of his own death certificate. In his handwriting he stated the facts of his parents' names, his and their places of birth and wrote his own name in the space marked for the physician's informer. The section of the certificate used to record the time, place and cause of death were blank.

At his own request, Doctor Elderdice will be interred in the national cemetery here [see Figures 3 and 4]. Full military honors will be accorded him. Members of the Gettysburg camp of the Sons of Union Veterans will conduct military services at the grave and will employ the services of a firing squad and a bugler.

Funeral services Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the H. B. Bender and Son funeral home with the Rev. Edwin L. Eslinger, pastor of the Gettysburg Methodist Episcopal church, officiating.

A copy of his death certificate is among the pension records.²⁵ Mrs. Hettie Linn of Cashtown, PA, provided details for the certificate. The certificate was signed by E. A. Miller and Roy W. Gifford who stated that they had attended Dr. Elderdice from May 15, 1936 to June 28, 1936 and last saw him alive on June 26 and that death occurred at 8:30 p.m. at his home in McKnightstown. The cause of death was carcinoma of the liver, from which he had suffered for two months. The secondary cause was chronic myocarditis, from which he suffered for one year.

Pallbearers at the funeral were eight sons of Lawrence M. Rebert, McKnightstown. "Having made all plans for his own burial, Doctor Elderdice had selected these brothers as bearers. He was the attending physician when each of them was born."²⁶

A pension stop-payment notice was filed August 11, 1936, following his death June 28, 1936. His daughter, Mrs. Marian E. Cromwell, 107 S. Stricker St., Baltimore, MD, filed an application to receive the burial flag. This was approved June 30, 1936.²⁷

Several current residents of the McKnightstown area were contacted in the hope of finding someone who had personal contact with Dr. Elderdice. Genevieve (Cluck) Slegal, a resident of McKnightstown and one of the babies delivered by Dr. Elderdice, was interviewed April 30, 2003, being asked to provide her personal recollections of Dr. Elderdice. Genevieve, the daughter of the late Calvin Cluck and called by Dr. Elderdice "Little Girl" or "Cal's Girl," was 20 years old when Dr. Elderdice passed away. She remembers him as "a typical country doctor," driving a buggy into the 1930s, never owning an automobile (see cover illustration). He had a white mustache, was gruff in manner, and did not mince words. Genevieve said that Dr. Elderdice did not handle the death of a patient well, "taking to the bottle privately," sitting in his reed chair in his office.

His office, in the front room of his home, was entered by the door on the right. On occasions when he did not want to be disturbed, he instructed Miss Cora Mickley, his long-time housekeeper, to give anyone who came to the house because of illness twenty-five cents worth of pills. Unknown to the patient, these pills were actually sugar pills. Dr. Elderdice felt that most complaints were mainly mental rather than physical; therefore, the sugar pills sufficed. True medication was dispensed at the cost of fifty cents.

When it came time for spring and fall housecleaning, Dr. Elderdice would allow only Genevieve's grandmother, Minnie Cluck, to perform those tasks. In her teens, Genevieve had the job of walking to the post office for the family's mail. The post office was located across the street from Dr.

Elderdice's home. Frequently, as he sat on the porch, she would call "Good Evening" to him. He would call back "Hello, Little Girl."

He once gave Genevieve a lecture on how to conduct herself with boys. In an attempt to warn her about venereal disease, he told her that a man came into his office and told him "I think I have crabs." Dr. Elderdice asked him where he thought he had contracted them. The man said that he got them from a toilet seat. The doctor's response was "That's a hell of a place to take a woman!"

When she reached college age, he urged Genevieve to go to college and to be sure to graduate and return to the area because the area needed educated people. He signed her health certificate. When Dr. Elderdice inquired as to what she planned to study and where, she told him that she would be attending the Susquehanna University Conservatory of Music and would teach music. His response was "Hell, that don't pay anything!"

Genevieve helped solicit funds for various drives in the community. Dr. Elderdice was always sure to give more than his neighbors across the street, Philip and Ella Sowers. "Philly," a retired railroad worker, would always give a quarter.

Among her recollections, Genevieve does not remember Dr. Elderdice's ever going to church. She also recalls that he did not often speak to other girls in the town than herself. She related that on one occasion, however, when a young woman, dressed in less than what was considered appropriate at the time, walked past his home where he was sitting on his porch. Seeing Dr. Elderdice, the young woman called "Good Evening, Dr. Elderdice" to him, to which he responded with a "Good Evening" and a comment that she should be wearing more clothing.

Genevieve praised Dr. Elderdice's handling of his patients. When her mother was suffering from a digestive problem, he suggested that she see a doctor in Gettysburg, because he had not "studied that."

Descendants of Dr. Robert B. Elderdice

All of Dr. Elderdice's living progeny descend from his daughter, Marian Kate. Marian married George W. Cromwell and lived her life in Baltimore, Maryland. George and Marian were the parents of three sons, Cameron, George Custer, and Robert Andrew, all deceased.

I. Cameron's son, Cameron Sterling Cromwell, is a resident of Maryland and is the father of a daughter, Jennifer.

II. George Custer, a United Methodist minister, was the father of three daughters. Marian, his eldest daughter, died while serving as a missionary in Argentina. Her son, Paul, is deceased and is survived by two sons, Brian and Evan. Marian is also survived by a daughter, Patricia. Custer's middle daughter, Phyllis, lives in the Towson, Maryland, area and is the mother of Caroline and Kirk, and the grandmother of Sarah. The third daughter, Ruth, resides in Florida, is the mother of two sons and a daughter, David, Cynthia and Alan. She is the grandmother of Carissa, Nathan, Cortland and Adam.

III. Robert Andrew was a resident of Baltimore and had no children.

Dr. Elderdice's second child, Maude Anna, married Thomas Stevens Rice and lived in New York City. They died childless.

William James Elderdice, the third child of Robert and Amanda Elderdice, lived in Baltimore and was the father of a daughter, Phyllis, who married Laurence Marshall. There are no living descendants from William.

Robert Grier Elderdice, the fourth and youngest child of Dr. Elderdice, also lived in Baltimore. He died at the age of 27 of nervous prostration during the illness of his only child. The child, a son, suffered from spinal meningitis and died one day after Robert. They were buried together.

Statistical Analysis of Dr. Elderdice's Ledger

by Sheryl Hollis Snyder

It is doubtful that obstetricians today could take the time to keep meticulous records of each obstetric case of their career, but Dr. Robert B. Elderdice did just that. Inside the front cover of his ledger he wrote "attended my 1st case at age of 21." His ten-column register listed case number, age, name (birth mother), number of labor, date, sex, PPn, fee, remarks, and pay in the doctor's consistently-legible handwriting. (For an illustration of Dr. Elderdice's handwriting, see the vaccination certificate in Appendix 1.)

From his first delivery in December of 1867, through May of 1882, Dr. Elderdice even recorded the time of each delivery. A person wonders how a country doctor's family dealt with calls at all times of the day and night. Of the 297 cases in which the time was documented, 26 were born at 4 AM, 20 at 2 AM, followed by 19 at 1 AM, and 16 births each at 3 AM and 7 AM. Ironically, there were only 4 born at 5 PM, but 12 an hour later at 6 PM. Once, near the end of his career he wrote, "Baby and I got there same time." In the remarks section, several other times he wrote, "all over."

Presumably, family activities on holidays were often interrupted. Four deliveries occurred on Christmas Day and 2 on Christmas Eve. On 22 separate occasions, he had 2 deliveries on the same day. The busiest month of his career was September of 1879, when he attended 7 births. He delivered 510 boys and 474 girls. Only one set of female twins was delivered. The longest run of males happened in 1909, when 9 were born. Three times, in 1871, 1883 and 1920/21, there were 7 females in a row.

The column "PPn" is for presentation, indicating what part of the infant presented through the opening of the birth canal first. The vast majority listed "V for vertex," head first. Other designations were shoulder, feet, breech, footling, etc.

The "remarks" column recorded other details of each birth, such as "forceps," "inverted plac.," "adhes.," "premature." For the most part, we have not included these graphic notations. Also included in the remarks column were babies who had unusually high birth weights. For example, his very first delivery of a son to Mrs. A. Kuhn was noted as being 14 pounds. Two other births (#12, #272) were also 14 pounds, with 4 others weighing in between 10 and 13-1/2 pounds.

There were 31 stillbirths. Only 1 recorded case involved the death of both mother and child. Thirty-seven year old Mrs. M. Laughabaugh delivered her first child, a girl, in June of 1889, after a 48-hour labor. Dr. Elderdice noted, "Died, both, mother 2nd day after." In addition, he noted 3 as "miscarriages." Most likely, the almost dozen cases recorded as many-weeks premature did not survive.

Most of the deliveries took place in the birth parents' homes. Exceptions noted by Dr. Elderdice occurred in "Reynolds' Hotel G," "Mtn.," "Balto.," "at Fisher," "at Jb. Hartzells," "at Sam. Daffs." Other notes recorded "Gbg.," "Hbg.," "Hanover," "Orrtanna," "Fairfield," and "Cashtown."

Dr. Elderdice's 1027 birth mothers ranged in age from 15 to 48 years of age. The majority (84) were 30 years old, followed by 71 women who were 27, 66 who were 35, and 64 who were 20 years old. Of the 79 deliveries to women 40 years old and older, 41 delivered at 40 years of age. The record shows 1 woman's 13th delivery, 2 having their 12th, and 8 their 11th child. Mrs. Jb. Schultz delivered her 11th child on her 40th birthday. A 41-year-old in her 12th labor gave birth to twins, as did a 42-year-old in her 13th labor. A woman, 46, had her 15th delivery, and Dr. Elderdice noted, "4 missed by illness"; presumably he delivered 11 of her 15 children. The 2 women aged 47 delivered their 9th and 10th children. One of the 48-year-olds had her 3rd delivery, and the other her 12th. Mrs. Levi Sterner, delivered a baby boy, her first child, on her 28th birthday.

With a medical practice spanning 59 years, Dr. Elderdice delivered several generations. In September of 1897, Mrs. Mark Bram (nee Minnie Lower) gave birth to her second child, a daughter. The doctor noted that he "attended her mother at her birth August 15, 1870 and his at his birth, 11-23-1873." Mark was born to Mrs. H. L. Bream and Minnie Bream to Mrs. Jno. C. Lower. After Mrs. William G. Rebert gave birth in April of 1893, Dr. Elderdice remarked that he had "delivered her [Boyd Heintzleman, now Rebert] 26 years earlier."

In the handwritten resumé of his practice, Dr. Elderdice noted that he had delivered 6 sets of twins. Presumably, he scanned his record for this information. In actuality, he delivered 14 sets of twins. The first set of twins was born to a Miss Mary Scott in December of 1869. Mary and her sons, Samuel and George, appear in the 1870 Federal census as residing at the Almshouse. Both twins born in the early years of Dr. Elderdice's practice did not always survive. Millard and Nancy Cover had a son and a daughter born in December of 1879. The Federal Census of 1880 shows only a daughter, Otta M., as being 1-year old. Noah and Malissa Lott had twin sons born in February of 1876. The 1880 census for Franklin township showed one son, William W., 4 years old. In another case, 1 of a set of twins was stillborn.

Of the 1027 deliveries, Dr. Elderdice noted that 2 deliveries in Zion, Cecil County, MD, were "col'd."

From the first birth he attended, at a fee of $5, it is clear that Dr. Elderdice could not make a living solely by delivering babies. His busiest year was 1879 with 35 cases, averaging $5.34 per birth. A 38-year span averaged only $5.16 per case. The birth of the Elderdice's 4 children and the "no-fee" allowed to Rev. Wolff (twice) and Rev. Tomkinson, has, of course, lowered this percentage. In 1906, the average fee raised significantly to $6.29, $7.72 in 1909, $8.35 in 1913, $10.04 in 1921 (the fee for one case being $16.00) and $12.94 in 1924. Dr. Elderdice totaled the fee column and carried it to the next page throughout his record, with the total at $6.266.50, of which he noted, "$228.00 not paid."

Four children of Robert and Anna Elderdice are included in the record. Their eldest child, Marian Kate (#57), was born 11 March 1871, with the note "attended by O'Neal." Case # 98 at noon on 4 Dec 1872 recorded the birth of Maude Anna Elderdice. While they were in Cecil county, MD, in 1874, Anna Elderdice gave birth to William James at 8 AM on 18 June (case #120). Their fourth child (case #166) was born at 9 PM on 5 October 1877 and named Robert Grier Elderdice.

There is a discrepancy in the number of cases. His numbering had several errors, so the total number of cases was 1027, not 1042.

Abortion Record

On the inside cover of his birth register, Dr. Elderdice listed abortions performed, only by number of cases per year, starting with 8 in 1868. The year with the highest number - 35 abortions - was 1879. Of the 1,498 documented abortions in his 59-year practice, 14 were performed in 1874-1875 in Zion, Maryland, while the remainder were listed as performed in "McKnightstown, Pa." In 1926 the doctor wrote, "12 to Nov. when quit this work, in my 81st year."

Adams County History, Vol. 10 [2004], Art. 1
Veterans Residing in Adams County, Pennsylvania
1840 – 1930

by Kevin L. Greenholt

The federal decennial census provides a wide-ranging set of data for analysis. The census forms for each ten-year cycle from 1790 until 1930 have been released to the public for access.

The tabulations of 1840, 1910, and 1930 contain data relating to the military service of those interviewed by the census enumerator.

1840 – The census enumerated the names and ages of ~~Revolutionary War and the War of 1812 pensioners~~. The census schedule for 1840 was designed to cover two pages, allowing for the numerous data fields. The pensioner information was recorded on the second page.

1910 – The census enumerated, on column 30 of the form, veterans of the Union and Confederate Army and Navy. Abstracted were name and age.

1930 – The census enumerated, on column 31 of the form, veterans of the Civil War (1861-1865), the Spanish-American War (1898), the Philippine Insurrection (1899-1902), the Boxer Rebellion (1900), the Mexican Expedition (1916-1917), and World War I (1917-1918). Abstracted were name, age, and war.

Additionally, in 1890 a special census schedule was created containing the names of “Surviving Soldiers, Sailors, and Marines, and widows, etc., persons who served...during the war of the rebellion.” This special schedule, for Pennsylvania, created in June 1890, survived a fire which destroyed the regular 1890 decennial census. This schedule includes unit assignments, dates, and notation of wounds or war-time death. Note that widowhood could have occurred up to 1890, not necessarily from the war. In the case of Adams county, all veterans served in the Union Army.

Abstracting the 1840, 1910, and 1930 veterans was accomplished by using the Internet and the microfilm resources of the Pennsylvania State Library, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, and the Adams County Historical Society, Gettysburg, Pennsylvania. The 1890 special schedules were accessed at the Pennsylvania State Library. Certain parts of the various schedules, that of 1910 in particular, are extremely difficult to read. Accordingly, the three sources named above were thoroughly checked and re-checked in an effort to decipher those entries which were questionable.

Following are abstracts of veterans who resided in Adams county at the time of the census enumerations. Names are spelled as they were recorded in the census. The four lists are presented in surname order, within the municipalities of Adams county.

Contributors

Kevin L. Greenholt is a resident of Carlisle, Pennsylvania, and has served as a staff volunteer for the Adams County Historical Society for the past two years. A native of McSherrystown, he is a retired computer systems application developer and an avid genealogist. With the two contributions included herein, Kevin is a first-time contributor to Adams County History.

Sheryl Hollis Snyder is the administrative assistant for the Adams County Historical Society. A graduate of McPherson College, McPherson, Kansas, she had held various positions, including home economics teacher, teacher's aide, and various secretarial positions. She serves as organist at the Gettysburg Church of the Brethren. Early in volunteering for the society in 1989, she discovered and was fascinated by Dr. Elderdice's ledger and has wanted to see it published.
