4-20-2014

Just Keep Plugging Away

Alexander K. Schweizer
Gettysburg College

Follow this and additional works at: https://cupola.gettysburg.edu/libinternblog

Part of the Information Literacy Commons, and the Music Commons

Share feedback about the accessibility of this item.

Schweizer, Alexander K., "Just Keep Plugging Away" (2014). Blogging the Library. 45.
https://cupola.gettysburg.edu/libinternblog/45

This open access blog post is brought to you by The Cupola: Scholarship at Gettysburg College. It has been accepted for inclusion by an authorized administrator of The Cupola. For more information, please contact cupola@gettysburg.edu.
Just Keep Plugging Away

Abstract
I am not the greatest technology user, but I am in the process of creating a page on the library’s resource guide that will include resources, links to resources, and links to links to resources about pretty much anything anyone might ever want to know about the President’s Own Marine Band. It will include audio resources, as well as links to more audio resources. It will include links to notable and informative websites that will show you super cool pictures of various aspects of the Marine Band, as well as its musicians and directors, past and present. It will even include links to resources that the library has about the Marine Band, such as informative books that you can actually read. [excerpt]

Keywords
Musselman Library, Gettysburg College, Fortenbaugh Internship, Music Intern

Disciplines
Information Literacy | Library and Information Science | Music

Comments
The Interns at Gettysburg College's Musselman Library captured their internship experiences since the spring of 2011. Over time the blog has featured Fortenbaugh, Smith, and Holley interns. They shared updates on semester long projects, responded to blogging prompts, and documented their individual intern experience.

Creative Commons License
This work is licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution-Noncommercial 4.0 License

This blog post is available at The Cupola: Scholarship at Gettysburg College: https://cupola.gettysburg.edu/libinternblog/45
Hello Gettysburg!
I hope all is well, and that everyone is enjoying the last few weeks of the semester. It is amazing how quickly the semester went, and also a little scary; I only have two more weeks to finish the project I am working on.
So here is a quick update:

I am not the greatest technology user, but I am in the process of creating a page on the library’s resource guide that will include resources, links to resources, and links to links to resources about pretty much anything anyone might ever want to know about the President’s Own Marine Band. It will include audio resources, as well as links to more audio resources. It will include links to notable and informative websites that will show you super cool pictures of various aspects of the Marine Band, as well as its musicians and directors, past and present. It will even include links to resources that the library has about the Marine Band, such as informative books that you can actually read.
Bottom line: it’s going to be awesome!

The date is set for me to complete the project by Friday May 2nd, at which time it will be made visible to the public. I know you all can’t wait, so in the meantime, if there’s anything that you might want to know about the Marine Band, (such as: When was it founded? Which president held a party for the band’s 200th anniversary? How many women are in the band? Who are other important and influential directors of the band? Where and when does the band play? What is the significance of each uniform? I could go on and on…) don’t hesitate to send me an email asking me to include something that you find interesting.
There’s only two more weeks left of classes, and then its finals week, so just keep plugging away and doing great work!

http://blogging.musselmanlibrary.org/2014/04/